UX Design

 - With putting my knowledge to the test in UX Design, I and my group worked on a semester long project in my Intro to Human Computer Interaction course, creating an app that helps put students at ease when getting to know new students to befriend. With our app, CollegeVibes, we created a different mechanism of making that task of making friends in College, easier through use of developing Personas fitting our target demographic, storyboards, interviewing other students, etc. to create an efficient app satisfying a student's endeavors of befriend.
